

It is completely scandalous that a huge broadcasting conglomerate such as Sinclair Broadcasting would force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. But when large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the wealthy few and less of what we need for our democracy. Airing a partisan smear piece does not serve the public interest!

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. They show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
